“ I consider Danny to be one of my few , "true blue " , friends. We enjoyed many good times. Many hours spent on the gun range. He taught me to be a real shooter with what I called " Dannys Mind Melt ". . He helped me get mu rifle "in tune " , worked up hand loads, etc. My deepest sympathies go to Ann and Ben. Ill miss him a lot.

“ Danny was my cousin thru his mother Pat . I well remember visiting Danny, Pat, and Elmer in Zuni one summer. Young Danny was sporting a black eye from a kick from a calf while trying to tie a pigging string on the feet of the calf during a rodeo. Many pictures from Pat let me watch Danny grow up, marry beautiful Ann, and raise a much loved son. My heart goes out to Ben and Ann. With love, your Indiana cousin, Vicki “ Danny changed my life. He graciously offered to teach me to ride, and gave me a basic education with horses, asking only that I “pass it on.” He was meticulous and generous, and the Roswell community will miss him greatly.

“ As a beginner spurmaker I came over to Roswell to maybe learn how to engrave a little better than just “ wheatcut” which was popular but not what I wanted to be stuck doing.

Danny showed me a few technics but as the day progressed, off to Bob Curtis’s as we spent the day with him. I learned how to blue & how to cut sterling with a graver which was the true beginning of my Engraving career. With much encouragement from Danny I continued to develop my style as an Engraver which had now lead to where I am today, a full time Firearms Engraver. Thanks ol pard, appreciate everything you ever said as encouragement. Peace be with you....
