His Journey's Just Begun

Don't think of him as gone away his journey's just begun, life holds so many facets- this earth is only one. Just think of him as resting from the sorrows and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort where there are no days and years. Think how he must be wishing that we could know today how nothing but our sadness can really pass away. And think of him as living in the hearts of those he touched... for nothing loved is ever lost – And he was loved so much. Ellen Brennenman

“ I had only known Aiden for a few months .. he was such a cute little boy, he would growl at me all the time !! I brought him candy and little cars to play with while Rudy worked, and we drank strawberry soda together. I am so glad I got to know him if just for a short time. See you again someday Aiden, have fun playing and growling at the angels !!

“ I am so sorry to hear about the lose of Aiden. I remember the first time I met him, two summers ago. I was taking pictures and he was always asking me to take pictures of him. Naturally I did. He then proceeded to ask to see each picture that I took of him right after I took. I remember thinking how much I loved that kid and wished I could take him home with me. He was so adorable. I am sorry again about your lose, but know he was and will always be loved. Miss you guys.

“ You don't know me. I just happened to read the paper and my heart broke for you when I saw the photo of your beautiful son and I just had to say some words of comfort to you. I know you and yours are going through an extremely difficult time of grief. Rev. 21; 3-4 speaks of a time when death will be no more. I am confident you will get to see your little boy again, healthy and sound as he is in God's memory. All my love goes out to you as your endure this time of sorrow.

“ While the loss of a loved one is never easy, it is most certainly the hardest when they are taken from us too soon. Your recent loss of your son who has left us at such a youthful age is certainly in the category of those hard losses for which there is so painful a reminder of what might have been. We offer our sincere condolence and deepest sympathy on your loss. May the outpouring of sympathy, the kind acts of friends and strangers and the comfort in knowing that your loss is felt by many, help you through this difficult time. I ask for God's blessings on you and your wonderful family. May you find the courage and strength to move forward in peace and confidence and in knowing that his was a life well-lived. Just a Memory Away
I'm no longer by your side, but there's no need to weep; I've left sweet recollections I'm hoping you will keep. Eternal joy and memories stay in our hearts forever, Strengthening our special bond that parting cannot sever.
Now it's time to journey on-- so let your faith be strong, For I am in a better place... I'm home where I belong.
And if times of loneliness bring sorrow and dismay, Don't despair, for I am there... just a memory away.
