“ It was always good seeing Alex. His ornery (in a good sense) personality made it fun to work with him. He will be greatly missed. My condolences to all his family, and may God grant you strength in this time of grief.

“ Alex and I met when we were in the 8th grade and he taught me how to box, drive a car, fix a bike and drink beer. Unfortunately it was usually warm Coors beer he likely borrowed with no intention of returning. We would cruise the dirt, desert back roads of Roswell share a bologna sandwich or two, (he liked mustard, I didn't) and many laughs. I will always remember him as the big brother I never had and my heart goes out to his family. Know you have an amazing angel now watching over you as I believe Alex would want to always protect and be there for those he loved and cared about most. RIP and fly high my friend.
