“ Dwayne,
You were a shining star! Your heart was so big and you shared your love with all your friends. Your smile and laugh could cheer anyone's day.
The world is a darker and colder place without you in it.
Rick and I will miss you so

“ Dwayne, it is so sad to come to Rest, so young, so young, you left all of your loved ones. You were an inspiration to all who knew you and shared the love that you so freely gave. Over the past few days I have viewed photo's of you with your loved ones, and even though our path's did not cross too much, living in all parts of the U.S. ~ I knew you through your mother and family. You were her rock, she told me, you inspired her and you lifted her <3 Now, you have a new place in her heart, and one day when you meet again, you will continue to share that love. Time passes and she will look for you in the stars, in the clouds, in the heaven's ~ where you await her, await for all of your loved one's <3 ~ I thank our Lord for giving you to your family, so that you could share Dwayne - the son, the brother, the uncle, the nephew the grandson, your very precious and special lady and all your friends. What could this world be like if we all, us, had never known you? You are a bright and beautiful figure in lives that will never be the same, because - you lived. Bless you child ~ now, in your journey to heaven where you will rest in the love of our Lord, in the arms of angels <3 ~ Aunt Cynthia
