Her Journey's Just Begun

Don't think of her as gone away her journey's just begun, life holds so many facets- this earth is only one. Just think of her as resting from the sorrows and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort where there are no days and years. Think how she must be wishing that we could know today how nothing but our sadness can really pass away. And think of her as living in the hearts of those she touched... for nothing loved is ever lost – and she was loved so much.

“ I was so blessed to have had Cathy as a mother-in-law. She was a very remarkable lady and I certainly can see where her son got a lot of his character and strength. It is so comforting to know that she is now with her first born and her granddaughter celebrating with Jesus. We will all see them again one day. Kathy “ Though our time on this Earth was not as close as I would have liked, I have always held you with high respect. The lessons you brought that have passed down through Dad, Ruth, Margaret, Betty, and Barbie and onto my generation of our family are never ending. They will be with us through all of our trials. We will work endlessly to pass them on to the next. As you travel on and reunite with Dad, others lost and the angels, know that you have left the world as a slightly better place. Through out your life, you have given many people the only thing worth having in their life, a reason for tomorrow. Will miss you Grandma.
