“ My heart aches to know you're gone from this life but I find comfort knowing that you are resting amongst angels, leaving this cruel world behind. I know you will be missed by everyone whoever met you because you had a way of leaving your mark! I will ALWAYS treasure every moment we spent together. Whether sliding into the chicken shack, partying it up in brownfield, having lunch in Austin or just sitting on my mom's front porch laughing, you will always hold a special place in my heart. I love you my old friend, I love you my new angel, I love you Charlotte Marie Byrd. Until we reunite, rest easy my lil sister.
