“ Aunt Christine ,
So many memories of you I will always hold close to my heart. One thing I will forever admire about you is the deep love you had for your boys and your grandchildren you loved them so, so much, and it always showed.

All my life, I've heard stories of how you cared for your siblings as the older sister, always there for them when they needed you while growing up. That says so much about the kind of person you were, and the beautiful, motherly gift God gave you.

I'll miss those little, unexpected moments running into you at the store, or recently seeing you at church and having you sit with me. I'll miss those quick chats. I'll never forget how you made my little girl a candy bag for Halloween, or how last July, on my birthday, you showed up at my house with cupcakes.

As we all grieve your passing, I find comfort in believing you are celebrating in heaven with Jesus. You are so loved, and you will never be forgotten, Aunt Christine.

Gus & Carl may you find peace through this difficult time just know your mom loved you both more than anything. Xo, Casondra
