On January 9, 1959, Diego was born to Vicente and Isabel Salcido in Roswell, New Mexico. Diego loved working and traveling with the fair. Prior to retiring, he worked for National Beef Packing Company.

Some of Diego's favorite pastimes he treasured playing bingo, spades, and dominoes, and especially loved cooking. He loved to cruise around while he was listening to his music. Diego absolutely adored his precious dogs, going fishing, dancing, card games, animal keeping, and deer hunting.

As an enthusiast, Diego loved watching America's team, "The Dallas Cowboys." He was a member of Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous from 1994 to the time of his passing. Diego was also an active member of St. John the Baptist Catholic Church.

Diego was a kind soul who wore his heart on his sleeves. If he could help you, he'd go out of his way for you. His energy was out of this world. Diego's favorite saying was, "It's another day in paradise." Those memories will go on in everyone's hearts forever.

“ Quite a shocker to me to find out that Diego passed away! My condolences go out to the Salcido Familia. Our families go back a few generations and I knew Diego growing up around the hood. What comes to mind is how fast a runner he was back in the day. LOL. He would periodically stop by my house over by AA and share some chat time for a bit. It was always good to talk about past times. I'll miss seeing him and those chats. 62 is still too young to leave this earth, but as they say, "it's God's plan...". Rest in Peace my brotha and God Bless!
