There are no words to truly express the loss that I'm feeling for you right now. I wished I had held you and kissed you longer that morning, as I watched you smile at me one last time, as you went off to start your day.

I know you promised me forever, and ten years with you was not long enough. I so wish we had more time but I know we will be reunited again one day. The girls and I will miss you, and we will continue to love you and remember the good times. You will always be my true love.”

Love you always,
“T”

“ I am beside myself with grief, just finding out about your passing. I met you when I was 16 and you were the center of my life off and on for 30 years. We went through so much, some great, some not so great. In our last conversation in August 2018, we reminisced and laughed. We forgave each other for a few things and focused on the good times. You told me how happy you were and your plans to move to Arizona. I brought you up to date about my life and the lives of the family. We were genuinely happy for each other. It was a long, memorable conversation I will forever treasure. Although you mentioned your health issues, you gave me the impression you were in good health. I never imagined you would leave this earth so soon after. I will look back on the old times and remember only the good. It is time to dig out the old photos I buried in a box in the back of the closet and have a long hard cry. My sincere condolences to your Mom, Albert, and your family.
