

George A.C. Moul

October 4, 1919 - December 30, 2018

Longtime Roswell resident George A. C. Moul, 99, passed away peacefully on December 30, 2018, at the Eastern New Mexico Medical Center (ENMMC-Roswell). Please take a moment and share a fond memory or kind expression of sympathy for George's family at www.andersonbethany.com.

Services: No local services are planned at this time. Interment will take place at a later date in the family plot in Arlington, Virginia.

The fourth of seven siblings, George was born in Pennsylvania in 1919. He served his country in the US Army from 1941-1945. After the war, George attended Strayer University on the GI Bill and earned a master's degree in accounting. He became a Certified Public Accountant in 1961 and practiced his profession in the Washington, DC, area for many years. George was a long-time avid golfer, achieving a hole-in-one in 1985. Everyone who knew George loved his kind and friendly personality. He will be greatly missed.

Survivors: Those left to celebrate his life are his loving wife of forty-six years, Judy, devoted son Kip and wife Monika, and numerous loving nieces, nephews, in-laws, and friends.

Preceded: Preceding George in death were his parents, two brothers and four sisters.

George's tribute was lovingly written in his honor by his family.
