“ I was saddened the day that I heard of my Aunt Helen's passing. Through tears I found myself remembering the beautiful memories of my Aunt Helen, my Godmother. Her cooking and baking, especially her fudge, were always a treat. I remember her fear of thunder and lightning and to this day whenever we experience a thunderstorm, I think of my Aunt Helen. I will always remember her being a wonderful sister to my mother and to all of her other brothers and sisters. She was a very special woman to me and I will miss her greatly. Lydia Bell Anaya

I am Steve Candelaria, Graciano's son, otherwise known as Pancho. I remember visiting with my tia when I came back home to Roswell, and she loved to show us family pictures and invite my wife and me to come eat breakfast with her before we headed back to Dallas. She made some killer biscuits. As a kid I remember her working at Wackers, the five-and-dime. She was always a hard worker. I feel fortunate to have her as my aunt and to be able to see her one last time when we were in Roswell in May. I will miss her.

“ My Tia Elena.. my Grandmothers last living sister has gone to be with her beloved sisters and brothers in heaven! My little Tia was the sweetest thing ever, little tiny thing with such a big heart! I remember living across the street from her, going to play with Becky and Jerry and she would always give us the coldest tea EVER! And now in her golden years this wonderful woman still had such a big heart always helping anyone she could. Her grandchildren and now her great grandchildren were always her light! She was like her sisters and my Beloved Grama Betty very loving caring women, loved their families more than life itself! I loved going to visit you Tia when I would come to Roswell I know my Grama Betty and your other sisters and brothers and were all there to welcome you home! You will be missed Tia!

“ My grandmother was an amazing person. She taught me more about life than I could have ever expected. Our conversations were hours long and every time I would visit her time didn't appear to exist. We had a unique bond and never once did my grandmother and I have a disagreement. I always showed her the utmost respect because she deserved that respect undeniably. She was kind, courteous, loving, understanding, and everything in between an amazing person possesses. I'm going to miss you grandma more and more everyday. It is going to kill me not to be able to hear your voice or see your face anymore. I love you!

“ While Helen is my great-aunt, I am sad to say that I didn't know her very well, but my Mom was very close to her. We moved to AZ over 30 yrs ago, but my Mom would always keep in contact w/her Tia Helen and call her frequently and stay with her when she visited Roswell. I would visit w/her shortly when dropping mom off or picking her and she was just always welcoming, kind and loving. She was a true blessing to my Mom and I am grateful for their relationship.

I have to admit that when I did first meet her, I was surprised how her small stature compared to her older (half) sister (my grandmother-Noyola) who was so much taller and big framed. But she was just he cutest lil thing.
