“ My condolences to the Barela family . So many great memories of Henry. He even lived with us for awhile and during those times he loved to make breakfast and especially love to make the salsa . Going to church was one of his favorite moments of life , to play guitar and sing unto the LORD was something he looked forward to do , he always loved the opportunity whether in church or in homes . I can also remember the time we tried to make him eat oriental food , he spit it out as quickly as he put it in , lol, he said he will stick to Mexican food , he was always proud of what he grew in his garden and shared with every one possible ,he was never afraid of hard yard work, many many great memories of bro Henry that will always be in our heart ,he will be greatly miss by the Sanchez family
