On October 5, 1982, Jason was born to Mary Delgado in Artesia, New Mexico. He was a Hobbs native, where he attended Mills Elementary School and Highland Junior High School. Sometime later in the years, Jason relocated to another state, where he worked in construction. He had an uncanny way of making anyone smile. Jason enjoyed chatting with his friends and family. One of his favorite ways to pass the time was cooking, either in the kitchen or outside on the disco. Jason enjoyed drawing and tattooing. It was his way of expressing himself. Jason really loved listening to his music, no matter what.

Curtis; sister-in-law, Monica Palma (Elvio) and her sons Jacob, Jeremy,

Julian, and Jason Palma all of Roswell, NM; longtime mentor, Mrs, Kim “Og” Blackman of Georgia; Billy Ramos of Denver City, Tx; and numerous aunts, uncles, and cousins.

“ Perez, corazon where to start Ten years ago you came into my life. You studied me for a month. Watching and learning likes and dislikes. Ojitos triestes you called me. You keep me sheltered . But it was only us.

Through the year I watched you like you me. So many funny things happened with the girls so called primas. Loved you still. We could have done things better. But our time was ours. Espero que me saluides an Fernando y Al Jefe de jefes. Who left us before you. Erica and Pinqueo are teenagers now but will always be your kids. Corazon Descansa en Paz. Con mucho Carino.

My deepest regards to Mary Perez and Allyson Curtis. And OG what to do now our boy is gone.
