“ Omg...this is just unbelievable...jason will be so missed by so many...he was the strongest man ive ever known.and went through more than any one should. He was my hero...I need him so much,but I guess god needed him more...he will always be remembered by his sence of humor..loving ,caring and giving ways...im just so lost and empty without him....thank god he was home for a month and a half from the hospital,so he got to see how much he was loved by so many wonderful people...we both thank everyone for the love and support.
