“ A few years ago, Jason recognizes me in a Target in Houston, TX. I was so happy to see him and he gave me the impression he was likewise happy to see me. I think his personality must have made everyone feel that way. You'll be missed my friend. Today, I remember all the fun childhood memories with you and your cousin.

“ Jason, you were a very special man. You're incredible smile and energy made you so attractive to anyone that came into contact with you. You were funny and kind. I am so sad to hear of your passing. May the angels welcome you and surround you with the same love you gave to those of us on earth. Farewell my bear brother... Stevo

“ I met Jason in Pensacola and he helped me out of a very dark place and became a instant friend. He was always there when I needed to chat and was always willing to lend a helping hand. He was the rare gem you find in life and I will truly miss him with all my heart and soul.

“ This was the last picture you sent to me before your move to NM. You were scared but excited at the new possibilities and new adventures coming your way. Taken from us way way too soon. RIP. Prayers to your family and friends. Going to miss chatting with you.

“ Jason was like a little brother to me & we clicked immediately both being from South LA. We shared many stories & talked about our Cajun upbringing. Jason was a great person with a huge heart and everyone loved being around him. His passing is a huge loss but his memory will never be forgotten. ❤️

“ I've had the great honor of this wonderful man coming into my life twice. First during our days in the Navy in the early 1990's where he was the roommate of 2 other great guys that we were friends with, then again a couple years ago in Houston Texas. Great smile, sense of humor, and a larger than life personality. Rest in peace my friend.
