He was also a highly skilled mechanic and repaired and restored many vehicles, and most fun of all drove his drag racers. Joe's prized possession was his crowd-favorite 1977 Chevy LUV drag truck and a highlight of his racing career was winning a "Wally" trophy at the Roswell track.

On February 19, 1972, Joe married Eva, and they had two wonderful daughters, Amanda and Tammy. He and Kathy were married on May 26, 1995, and Joe helped raise his step-daughter Emily.

SURVIVORS: Surviving Joe is his wife, Kathy; daughters: Amanda (James Padilla) and Tammy (Jonathan Anderson); step-daughter, Emily (Tim Craton); grandchildren: Alexis and Miranda Carrasco, Joshwa Anderson, Madalyne Vigil, and Fiona Craton; brothers: Pete (Alice) and Lupe; along with a sister, Linda Carrasco.
