“ John and my husband, Jim, both of Roseville, worked together in Ohio for ANCHOR HOCKING in Ohio, 1964 and we had so much fun, he could really sing. He tried to teach me to play cards but I could never learn, that became a joke whenever he saw me. In 1966, my husband then enter the military for three years and we lost track of John and his little ones. My husband passed in 1977 of an auto accident, where we lived in Ca. after the military service. He had the cutest children with Kim. I hope they have grown to be great children as well as the rest of his children he had with you, Cindy.

“ John was a great singer and guitar player. I had the honor of playing drums in his band in the early 70s.
