“ Dear Joseph

You have left so many questions unanswered. So many wonders of why sometimes in ur life the mistakes you made had such a high price to pay but no matter what you did or could or should done it will never change how We felt about you.

You have forever left a spot in my heart that will always be just for you. I have always had a special place in my heart for you and your family but just like seasons change people do to our lives get busy and sometimes we forget to take a moment to say i love you and cherish memories. I'm so blessed that I got to share some of ur childhood memories as I can recall 5 very special ones .

1. When you gave my daughter her 1st kiss at age 7. And wrote her a note, check yes or no will you go out with me?

2. When you broke the neighbors window with a rock and blamed it on Jacob after I told you And my josh not to play baseball with rocks.

3. After a baseball game all the East Sixth Street kids came over for pizza and a movie on my brand new TV you knocked over ! Not sure how you did it but you blamed it on Wedo until everyone ratted u out.

4. All the 6th street kids riding bikes and u almost gave me heart attack when you beat a car to cross the street. Lil did I know at the moment that you were in a hurry cuz you had ur pockets full of gum or candy that was taken from ur moms snow cone truck!

5. As the Sanchez Boys were always a hot topic on 6 th street we all loved to see y'all having fun and where riding bikes was from sun up to sun down! But my most sweatiest and precious memory of you was when you wrote "Thank You" on the sidewalk with chalk after I gave you a popsicle.

You will forever be remembered and treasured in the hearts of our Family! It will break my heart to see the sadness in the eyes of your parents especially in your mothers as no man could ever understand the bond a mother has with her child it's not to say a father loves his child less but as a mother from the very beginning we share the same heart beat and as we watch and feel our baby grow inside of us we can't wait for the moment to hold you and see you face to face. But now life has given you back to our Father in Heaven were you will be free to walk those streets of gold with a pure heart and soul.

*Joseph we will miss you but WE WILL NEVER FORGET YOU!
And everyday when the sun comes out and we feel it's warmth it will remind us of the day you went home in the arms of an angel.*

WE LOVE YOU ALWAYS!
