Leo Samuel Luechtefeld

January 23, 1940 – October 10, 2025

Leo Samuel Luechtefeld, 85, of Roswell, New Mexico, passed away peacefully on October 10, 2025. He was born on January 23, 1940, in St. Louis, Missouri, to Leo Julius and Virginia North Luechtefeld. In 1953, he moved with his family to Roswell, where he made his lifelong home.

Leo was a skilled and dedicated electrical motor rewinder and mechanic, spending many years as a valued employee and later as co-owner of Savage Brothers Electric. He took great pride in his work and built lasting relationships through his honesty, craftsmanship, and commitment to quality.

Beyond his career, Leo lived a life full of energy and curiosity. He enjoyed playing guitar, racing enduro motorcycles, and drag racing. In his retirement years, he found great joy in restoring antique cars and tending to his pecan trees, where he spent many peaceful hours outdoors.

Leo is survived by his loving wife of 64 years, Barbara Sue Luechtefeld; his children, Gail Pinson and Michael Luechtefeld; his sisters, Bonnie Knotts and Gloria Roesch; and many nieces, nephews, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and friends who will deeply miss him.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Leo Julius and Virginia North Luechtefeld; his daughter, Terra Boseman; his stepson, Joe Dombrowski; and his siblings, Vicky Larson, Shirley Mohrmand, Charlie Luechtefeld, and John Luechtefeld.

The family would like to extend their heartfelt gratitude to the Enhabit Hospice staff and caring nurses for their kindness and support.

In accordance with Leo's wishes, no services will be held.
