

Margaret Ann Calciano

January 30, 1938 - May 12, 2026

Margaret Ann Calciano, 88, passed away on Tuesday, May 12, 2026, in Roswell, New Mexico.

Margaret was born on January 30, 1938, in Trenton Jew Jersey to her father, George Daugherty, who lovingly raised her in Yardley, Pennsylvania. She attended and graduated from Yardley High School. A devoted mother and a no nonsense, steady presence in the lives of those she loved, Margaret built a life defined by hard work, loyalty, and quiet strength.

She spent many years working for the Pennsbury School District, where she retired as a school bus driver. Her work reflected who she was — dependable, patient, and deeply committed to the well being of children.

Margaret had a creative side and enjoyed ceramics, often filling her home with pieces she crafted by hand. She was also deeply involved in her children's activities, serving as treasurer for their Little League and helping with their bowling league. Whatever her children were part of, she found a way to support it.

At home, Margaret was the heart of the family. She always had a warm meal ready, and pasta — especially loved by her husband — became a staple in their home. Her kitchen was a place of comfort, routine, and love.

In 1987, Margaret and her family moved to Roswell to be closer to her father, a decision that brought their family together across generations.

Margaret will be remembered for her strength, her practicality, her devotion to family, and the countless small acts of care that shaped the lives of those around her.

Those surviving to cherish the memory of Margaret are her children: James D. Calciano Jr. (Joann) of Pennsylvania, David P. Calciano (Linda) of North Carolina, Dean Calciano (Ann) of Pennsylvania, Dale R. Calciano of New Mexico, and Deidre R. Calciano of New Mexico; grandchildren: James Calciano, Anthony Calciano, Kristin Harris (Scott) David Calciano, Mark Calciano, Ben Rivera, (Ariana), Alego Rivera, Cassandra Rivera, Briana Calciano, and Andrea Calciano; great-grandchildren: Brandon, Samuel, Christopher, Samantha, Matthew, Braylon, and Violet Rivera, and Caius Rivera, Arianny, Amaiah, Martin Isaiah Solis; one niece, one nephew, as well as several cousins.

Margaret was preceded in death by her husband, James D. Calciano; and father, George Daugherty.
