I love you that's all I have to say you will forever be the best woman in my life even though my real mom was never there I'm glad you stepped in and I called you my step mom you were there at my school assemblys teaching me how to ride my bike meeting delos it hurts to not hear you laugh, talk, hug me and to not have your presence with me I know I'm late to send this comment but I really was nervous I'm glad to have had you delos your mom and your dad in my life even though I won't get to see them anymore either I will always think about you and hey it always gets me when I go and pass by your house thinking I will never be able to live in there anymore, I would always remember you would put up my drawings and my perfect attendance on the fridge, I love you momma and I hope everything is good and happy up in heaven.
