Land of Endless Day

I close my eyes and look far away, To a land of endless day. Where people are always happy, And in their heart there is an eternal song. The Lord is praised all day long. Little flowers bloom everywhere. There is never a stormy cloud in the sky so blue. The Lord stands on the golden stairs, Keeping watch over me and you. As the sun rises, We will let our spirits soar, Until it reaches heavens door. Let go of all things, That binds your heart down here. Just breathe a praise and know the Lord is near. The Lord is coming to claim his own. So this is what I see, When I close my eyes, And look far away. To a land of endless day.

“ I feel blessed to have known Phoebe. She taught me to always put my faith & trust in God. Phoebe was the strongest & bravest woman I have ever known because of her faith. She would always tell Kim & I to put our lives into God's hands. I would sometimes tell Kim, " I think God made you my best friend so that I would meet your mom." I know that someday I will see my sister Kim again & Phoebe will be there to take our hands. And, we will walk in God's kingdom together.

“ I am sure there is not enough room for me to share all the memories I have of Phoebe Graham (Sister Graham I called her) so I won't take the space. I must say she was one of the most unique people I have ever known. Stern yet compassionate, unbending yet forgiving, warm then sometimes distant, always prayerful and contrite. She was like a second mother to me when I was in high school. She always seemed to be content in whatever state or trial she was in. Even though I have seen her only once or twice in the last 35 years, she was many times in my thoughts. To all the family...Gene, Sandra, Danny, Nathan, Clay, Leanne...our prayers are with you. I lost my Mom in 1997. I bet they are catching up old times right about now.

“ My condolences to you Clay, my BFF and your family. May the love of God embrace each of you and remember Revelation 21:4: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death,neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away."
