“ I was saddened to read about the passing of Robert but it also made me smile because that is what Robert did. He made people smile. He was one of the kindest, smartest, most gentle man I have ever met. Robert laughed a lot and always made me laugh as well but if he got serious, I listened very intently because I knew what he was going to say was going to be profound. His easy going, self-effacing manner made it easy to talk to him and he made you feel as though you had known him your whole life. Then he would say something about life that was just brilliant and blow you away with his wisdom. I always looked forward to his appointments in my office. He made my day many times. I will miss you my friend but I have no doubt you are making someone else's day better in heaven as I write this.
