“Dad, I am going to miss you so much. You were always there when I needed you. I wish I could have been there for you when you called me last week. You were an awesome dad. You taught me how to work on Harleys, how to drive race cars, and how to be emotionally strong, and so much more. I have so many great memories. I remember when you asked me to get you a cup of water as you were sitting on the couch with a giant bowl of cereal. As I was walking toward you, I pretended to trip and it made you jump and you spilled all of your cereal on yourself. :) I remember the snowball and water fights in the house that YOU started and just now realized it was a tricky way to get us to clean. I remember Vicky's parakeet riding around on your head making a nest in your afro. I remember the way you used to sing "I Love Rock and Roll" as loud as you could out the back door of the garage. You loved working out there. I remember being up all night with you showing me every little part of a Harley Engine, what it was for, and what made it bad. I remember riding up to the mountains or out to the lake. Oh and your famous barbeques dad, you were the best cook. Most of all, I will miss your hugs and words of wisdom, your teasing and your laugh. I always felt a protection from you while you were here on earth, and now you have to protect me from Heaven. See you there, Tell Uncle Ron and Yukon hello from your red headed kid. I miss you so much. I wish you could have waited. Thank you for all the years that I knew you. what I wouldn't give to hear that Harley coming up the street and the sound of you coming through the front door. Love you.
