“ I sat with her everyday in hospital during the last month of her life and she had to have major surgery inserting tubes in her kidneys...so she was sore & in alot of pain. Well me and her would sit around and joke. She would get mad at me for making her laugh so much her stomach would move. Lol. She would still have her smile ans her stubbornness even though she knew the path that lied ahead. I will miss our talks Cousin. Love Debbs
