“ I considered Scott to be my best friend for about the past 5 years and was completely crushed to receive the news of his passing. We went through a lot of highs and lows in life together and remained close through everything. I will miss and love Scott for the rest of my life. I am sad I didn't get to spend more time with him the last couple years after he left Albuquerque and I left New Mexico, but will cherish all the great memories he and I created together. My biggest condolences to the family, I know your hearts have broken from this loss. - Roger Pacheco
