

Syble Shipp

September 3, 1922 - July 21, 2016

Syble Shipp passed away Thursday, July 21, 2016. Services are under the direction of Anderson Bethany Funeral Home and Crematory.

Tribute Wall

“ Syble Shipp

December 29, 2022 at 05:26 PM

“ Granny Sybil is finally to her HOME she has been waiting and yearning for. No need for sadness cause she would want us to be rejoicing of her home going. Prayers of peace to all the family and friends.

Carolyn Belt - August 01, 2016 at 12:12 AM

“ Well Granny SYBLE is very happy now she can hear, see, danicing, walking. And seeing her Jesus. We will miss her at church.

Terri Odell - July 31, 2016 at 10:41 PM

“ 3 files added to the tribute wall

LaToya Boston - July 26, 2016 at 02:18 PM

LB

“ Great Granny was the staple of our family. She truly knew what it meant to love Jesus, her spouse, and others. I remember her prickly pear jelly, her love for homesteading (especially her chickens), and her selfless heart. She will be greatly missed. Her great great grandchildren will never know just how incredible of a woman of God she was. Maybe one day, we will see her again.

LaToya Boston - July 26, 2016 at 02:10 PM

 LaToya Boston

“ Great granny was a staple to our family. She truly knew what it meant to love Jesus, love her spouse, and love others. Her great great grandchildren will never get the chance to know exactly how incredible of a woman of God she was, but hopefully one day, we will see her again. She will be dearly missed.

LaToya Boston - July 26, 2016 at 02:06 PM

RM

“ When I was younger we would go to her house and we would go to furr grocery store and buy tortilla and beans the best burritos I ever had . I also remember sleeping out side under porch .

Rhonda meredith - July 26, 2016 at 01:52 PM