Travis was a diehard Raiders fan and loved watching football. He was always on the go, ready to lend a helping hand to anybody in need and had a big heart. Any chance he got, Travis would enjoy hunting, fishing, and camping with his family and friends. These were some of his most favorite memories. He was the life of the party and never met a stranger. Travis was always having fun and smiling. He was a friend to all and being a prankster - loved to make people laugh. Travis never failed to light up a room with his great personality. He loved to eat especially his parents' and his Momo's cooking. He really enjoyed working outdoors in the farming and agricultural industry where he met numerous contacts and friends. He was a friendly and outgoing person who just wanted to hang out with those he loved. Travis was especially close to his cousins James Archuleta and Melissa Anderson along with his other extended family members. Travis lived large, loved life and remained true to himself. We will never forget him and will always remember to "Git –R- Done".

Gone Fishing.....

If someone should ask for me
Tell 'em heaven is where I'll be.
I've finished all of my life's chores,
And now I fish on heaven's shores.

The view is grand and the fishing's great,
But I yearn for you as I wait.
I'll save a spot on the river's bend
For all those I call family and friend.

But for now, sail out to sea
And make a cast in memory
To all the good times we had
With me your son, nephew, and friend.

And if the fish no longer bite
Or seem no longer worth the fight
Because it's me that you are missing
Don't worry, be glad, I've only gone fishing.
